Hiedler Grüner Veltliner "Loess" 2006

$12.99 per bottle or $140.29 per case

Even though we are great fans of Austrian wines, there is something truly special about the 2006 vintage; it is perhaps the greatest vintage of the past 25 years! Grüner Veltliner is a grape that is spicy and zippy, and Ludwig Hiedler's Loess interpretation is a bit of a break from the norm. It is rich and broad with fabulous ripe fruit of pear and apple intermixed with a hint of strawberry and a spicy bite of white pepper. This is a fabulous value and a great choice for almost any veggie soup you can dream up!

Z Bordeaux 2005

$12.99 per bottle or $140.29 per case

There is simply no way to explain how exciting a great vintage in Bordeaux can be. In the past few years we have experienced this phenomenon three times. And every time the best part is finding inexpensive wines that over-deliver. Z is a wine from just west of Margaux, and thus it is perhaps the most affordable Bordeaux version of Cabernet we have. It has bold fruit on the front of the palate and a good grip in the finish displaying all of the power of this fantastic vintage! Drink this wine anytime in the next 4-7 years.
