

TABLE & VINE

BEER

of the MONTH

Every month, our beer staff is pleased to bring you the kind of beers you would expect from a store of Table & Vine's reputation. The world's most unique, exotic and sought after brews somehow always find their way to Table & Vine and in turn, we feature them as our Beer of the Month.

Our Beer of the Month is just the right brew for every reason imaginable. Whether it be a new brewery, a new style, a seasonal brew or just something wild and exciting, you'll ask yourself this... What's the difference between good beer and really great beer? You can purchase good beer just about anywhere. But really great beer... you can only find that at Table & Vine!

Sip by sip or cheer by cheer, you'll always have something to celebrate at Table & Vine!

September 2011

Harpoon Brewery Octoberfest

and All Varieties, 12 Pack, 12 oz Bottles

$11.98 plus deposit

The character and complexity of Harpoon Octoberfest comes from the malt and hops. When looking at a freshly poured Harpoon Octoberfest, you will notice the garnet-red color with a firm, creamy head. The beer's color is from a blend of Munich, chocolate, and pale malt. The thick head results in part from wheat malt added to the grist. The hop aroma of this beer is not overpowering but it is present. Tettnang hops add a subtle spice nose that blends with the malt character. This beer is full-bodied, smooth, and malty. Willamettehops are used to provide a gentle bitterness and to balance any residual sweetness present from the malt. The finish is soft and malty with a mild bitterness.

